David,

Thank you! On the whole, I think we did make progress at the workshop. In session 1, it was clear the picture was rather muddy in regards endogenous formaldehyde and how much of it interacted freely. On the other hand, th

Ravi,

You helped set up a terrific tone and standard for the beginning of the formaldehyde workshop. Your contributions to getting good speakers there, and thinking about how to structure the questions and discussions paid off. And, your professional demeanor and tone was great. (And, it looked like you did manage to get us past the frustration one participant had coming into the meeting!)

Thank you for all your hard work. It was a pleasure to sit and listen to the discussions and to see it was all under control.

I hope you have a good weekend, and, again, thank you.

David
